

Totally Locally Tadcaster Launches Festive Christmas Window Trail

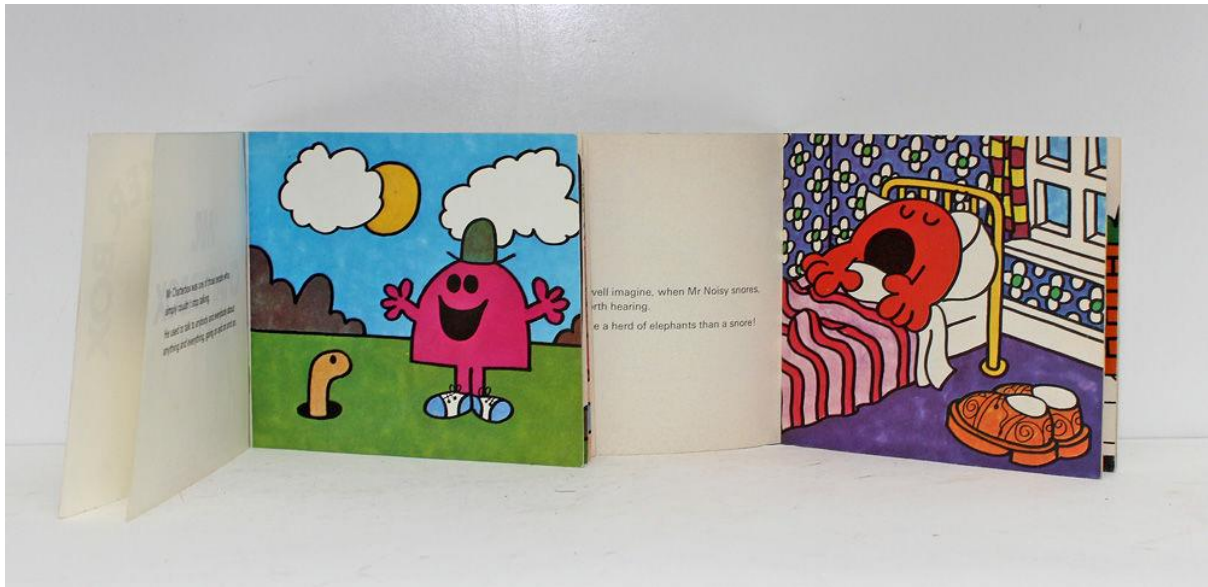

Totally Locally Tadcaster and Tadcaster's local independent high street businesses are spreading Christmas cheer with a magical window trail that combines festive fun with literary rewards for local families.

From 6th to 15th December, children are invited to explore the historic streets of Tadcaster to spell out the name of a beloved Christmas character by searching business windows for festive stockings. Each stocking displays a single letter, and young detectives must piece together the letters to reveal the mystery character.

The interactive trail takes families along High Street, St Joseph's Street, Commercial Street, Kirkgate, Westgate, and York Road, encouraging visitors to discover the town's independent shops and businesses while enjoying a festive treasure hunt.

Children who successfully complete the trail can claim a Mr Men book as their reward from the participating local traders, making this both an entertaining activity and an opportunity to foster a love of reading during the festive season.

"This is the most window-ful time of year in Tadcaster," said Kate Winship, Tadcaster's High Street Delivery Manager and spokesperson for Totally Locally Tadcaster. "We wanted to create an experience that brings families into town, supports our fantastic local businesses, and gives children something special to remember this Christmas."

The trail is free to participate in and suitable for children of all ages. Families are encouraged to visit during the 10-day window to explore Tadcaster's festive displays and claim their literary prize.

Pick up your trail leaflet from any participating business around town, or stop by the Totally Locally Tadcaster stand at the Christmas Market on November 30th to grab yours!
